

The 2021 season has been a transitional one, arriving from a restricted-filled shortened 2020 calendar of 15 races to one with 18 Events, of which only two were overseas races. We repeated venue on three occasions (Qatar, Misano, Portugal) due to the cancellation of the Asian rounds.

The following report counts the falls divided into category, session, Event (circuits sometimes hosted more than one Grand Prix), and rider (separated by class and in total). The list of events with a map indicating the corners where the highest number of crashes took place and a list and graph of crashes by corner.

At the end you will find all the individual falls reports from each of the 18 rounds along with the injuries sustained in the crash and the specific weather conditions of the sessions. (The injuries listed in the falls reports were updated only on race day, so their complete injury description may be incomplete as riders usually underwent further medical tests outside the circuits.)
